

RE💡THINK - RE@CONNECT - RE♥IMAGINE

ORDER FORM

ETFO members have called on ETFO to create resource materials on white privilege, anti-racist theory and culturally relevant pedagogy. The most recent of these resources is a 29-page booklet called Re-Think, Re-Connect, Re-Imagine. Thinking about ourselves, our schools, our communities. Reflecting on White privilege. ETFO's new resource raises key questions and makes practical suggestions for educators who want their classrooms, schools and communities to be more inclusive.

RE-THINK💡 RE-CONNECT@ RE-IMAGINE♥

You are about to embark on a journey of discovery, which may lead you to re-think your privilege, re-connect with your students and re-imagine a world where everyone is valued for who they are.
